WASHINGTON STATE PROHIBITIVE CRIMES

1. Conviction or adjudication for any felony offense in this state or elsewhere.
2. Any of the following crimes when committed by one family or household member against another, committed on or after July 1, 1993:
 - Assault in the fourth degree;
 - Coercion;
 - Stalking;
 - Reckless endangerment in the second degree;
 - Criminal trespass in the first degree;
 - Violation of the provisions of a protection order or no-contact order restraining the person or excluding the person from a residence.

Caution: Although state and local laws do not differ, federal law and state law on the possession of firearms differ. If you are prohibited by federal law from possession of a firearm, you may be prosecuted in federal court. A state license is not a defense to a federal prosecution. Federal law additionally prohibits the receiving of a firearm by persons who are unlawful users of, or addicted to, narcotics or other controlled substances; persons of unsound mind, adjudicated as mentally defective, or who have been committed to a mental institution. Federal law also prohibits persons receiving firearms who have been dishonorably discharged from the Armed Forces, aliens illegally or unlawfully in the U.S., or anyone convicted of, or under indictment for, a felony crime punishable by imprisonment for a term exceeding one year, to the extent that the law of the state of conviction bars possession of a firearm. Local laws and ordinances on firearms are preempted by state laws and must be consistent with state law.

NOTICE CONCEALED PISTOL LICENSE APPLICANTS

Changes to 18 U.S.C. 922(g)(9) became effective September 30, 1996. This section of federal law makes it unlawful for any person to possess a firearm who has been convicted in any court of domestic violence assault (felony or misdemeanor), regardless of the date of conviction, unless specific firearm rights have been restored.

NOTE: A person shall not be considered to have been convicted of such an offense if the conviction has been expunged or set aside, or is an offense for which the person has been pardoned or has had his firearms rights restored.

This change to federal law differs from Washington State law in that it applies to domestic violence convictions that occurred prior to 07-01-93, whereas Washington State law only applies to those convictions after 07-01-93. Therefore, convictions for domestic violence assault may be prohibitive.

If you have ever been convicted of domestic violence assault and have not had your firearm rights restored, you may be prohibited from firearms possession, even if you are issued a concealed pistol license.

- Caution: Although state and local laws do not differ, federal law and state law on the possession of firearms may differ. If you are prohibited by federal law from possession of firearms, you may be prosecuted in federal court. A state license is not a defense to a federal prosecution.

If you are in doubt as to your eligibility to possess firearms, we encourage you to seek legal counsel prior to submitting an application for a concealed pistol license.

I have read and fully understand the foregoing statement.
